Self-Scheduled Exams

Self-scheduled exams are those with time limits less than 24 hours (for example, 3-hour and 4-hour exams) where students are able to choose the date and time to take the exam, within the confines of the exam period. Students pick up the exam from Exam Administration Room, take the exam (within the time limit), and then return the exam with their answers to the Exam Administration Room. See the Record for details about what days and times self-scheduled exams may be taken, and other procedures.
